Theowing orange peel on a sidewalk is a care-less and dangerous act. On Nauanu Street last Tuesday, a native woman had a severe fall owing to stepping on a piece of peel. Opposite one Chinese store we noticed a large quantity of this dangerous matter. Our police might confer a boon on the public in restricting the practice as much The rule of the road ought to be more strictly observed in and around Honolulu. In turning the sharp corners, this neglect is more observable than elsewhere, and it is astonishing, the ulter indifference with which the policemen sit by and observe the hair-breadth escapes that occur daily. Police Officer Wond is very active in this respect. but unfortunately he can only be at one corner at By telephone we learn that their Excellencies W. M. Gibson and Simon K. Kasi arrived at

The gentlemen who are desirous of carrying out this scheme advocate that it would be a source of considerable revenue, and have a tendency to lessen the gin and whiskey drinking amongst the natives. THEIR Excellencies the Premier and the Minister of Finance left Kaneohe on Wednesday morning and arrived at Waikane about noon, where they were enthusiastically received by the people of that district. They continued their journey in the afternoon and reached Punaluu about 5 p.m., where they were warmly welcomed by Mr. Chulan and residents. They proceeded to Laie and Waialua on Thursday and will return to town to-day. THE Gazette of Wednesday last said "The transit of Venus takes place to-morrow (Thursday) and scientific parties in available places will be watch ing the occurrence. The transit of the planes across the disc of the sun will be visible here, but the point of contact, occurs before sunrise. The next transit occurs June 8, 2004." The astronomical observer of the Gazette has missed his mark this time. Nothing new, however, for our neighbor to shoot wide of his mark. Chance for another item next week to put matters straight.

THE A. B. C. F. M., have sent out here a very large and graphic map of the world, showing, on the two hemispheres all the missionary stations established on the face of the globe. Each station is named, and numerals are affixed to show the population of the different places, and, in short, the map gives a great deal of information in regard to miss broughout the world. The map measures fourteen by eight feet, and is to be hung on the walls of the Fort Street Vestry Room for reference.

THE following note explains itself, and it is to be hoped that there may be one uniform time adopted for ringing such bells and blowing such officers of the Survey Department have made arrangements by which the correct time can be furnished for public time pieces, viz: Government offices, churches, schools, steam mills, plantations and jeweller's shops, wherever connected by telephone.

THE Kapiolani Park Association will hold then regular meeting next month under the direction of the Hon. A. S. Cleghorn, President of the Association, the Park is being improved daily. The sum of $194 is paid out regularly every month for labor, and very satisfactory results are obtained. There have been prejudiced and malicious complaints about the Park and its surroundings but entirely without any foundation by persons who never take the trouble to make personal inspection of what has been, and is being done.

The first number of the Anglican Church Chronicle was issued from the P. C. Advertisen, office on Saturday last. It contains eight pages of reading matter in addition to four pages of advertisements. The object of this religious journal is stated in the Salutatory address, "to inculcate the apostolic in-junction, 'Let all things be done decently and in good order," especially in matters pertaining to public worship." It furnishes interesting items concerning the Church in Hawaii from South Kona, Lahaina and Wailuku and several instructive articles, original and selected. By an oversight, this number has been printed on an inferior class of paper. The quality to be used in future

Amonost the recent large importations of goods, one of the most valuable and carefully selected stocks is that of Mr. M. McInerny. Owing to the inadequate space at the disposal of Mr. McInery, he has not the opportunity of making a grand display, but he is at all times willing to exhibit his valuable wares to visitors. On Saturday last our reporter was shown the contents of Mr. McInerny's safe. He has invested an immense capital in gold and silver watches, jewellery, diamonds, Gorham solid silver ware, and lace ware. It contains some charming souvenirs for Christmas presents, use and beauty being combined throughout the whole of his stock. He assured us that he keeps nothing but genuine first-class goods, which he offers at the lowest possible prices. In addition to the local retail trade, Mr. McInerny transacts a large keepers, and the good name that he has acquired is evidenced by the extensive character of his dealings. The most fastidious purchaser will find iu this store the best "outlet" for his surplus cash.

A summons has been issued against Marshal Parke and Police Justice Bickerton for illegally authorizing the issue of a warrant, and the execution of the same, on the premises of Hang Lung Kee and Co., 24, Hotel-street, on the 5th November last. This matter will be heard before the Chief Justice on his return from Maui, on or about the 14th December. #### Booth's Panacea.

The audience at the Opera House last Friday night when Edwin Bo oth played "Hamlet, undoubtedly noticed the pungent odor that pervaded the house, after the great scene between Hamlet and his mother, during which the old for $8. THE Honolulu Amateur Dramatic Club will give an entertainment on Tuesday next, at the Music Hall. The great attraction is Gilbert and Sullivan's operetta, "Trial by Jury." On Thursday last, a huge derrick, recently built at the Enterprise Mill, was transported from thence to the Lunalilo Home. It will be erected over the Artesian well, and a tank placed on the top of it for supplying the premises with water.

A NEW venture starts to-day under the style and name of the Merchants Bazaar. It is under the personal management of Mr. Lederer, who is well known from his long connection with Mr. A. M. Mellis, and afterwards with Mr. Fishel. We wish Ar the Fort-street Church Sunday morning, Mr. Cruzan will preach a sermon to young men, suggested by the death of the late George Bradley Bishop. In the evening Mr. Cruzan will preface his sermon on Genesis and Geology," with a brief prelude on " Charles Darwin and Christianity. YESTERDAY afternoon a lumber dray belonging Messrs. Lewis and Cooks broke the laws by travelling "faster than a walk," and also broke a lamp-post in front of George Lucas' mill by coming in contact with it After proceeding as far as Messrs, E. O. Hall and Son's corner without further damage, the horse was cleverly stopped by lice officer No. 29. A NEW fence has been erected around Queen Emma's premises, a decided improvement on the former barricade. The old building that stood at the corner of Nuuanu and Beretania streets has been removed, and the result is a decided improvement in the appearance of Her Majesty's mansion. Hon. A. S. Cleghorn will act as Governor of Oahu during the temporary absence of Governor Dominis who has gone to Maui for a short time. Monday, Dec. 4th.-The charge-sheet comprised ten drunks and one desertion of husband. The latter was settled out of Court, and the usual fines were inflicted in each of the first-named cases.

NINE appeals were brought before the Board on Monday last. Mr. Magnin succeeded in getting a reduction of $500 on his property up the valley. The Assessor was sustained in the remaining appeals. THE Gospel Temperance Meeting at the Bethel vestry on Saturday night was well attended, and was conducted by Mr. Dunscombe. Drs. Damon and Hyde made a few remarks. The interest in these meetings is well sustained and we look for much good to result from them. By reference to our advertising columns it will be seen that Messrs. A. W. Pierce & Co., acting as agents. offer the ship Hope for sale " as is." believe the hull is entirely sound, and a good chance offered to secure a fine vessel. On the western side of Messrs. Castle & Cooke's tore, the ground has been excavated for the purpose of laying the foundation of a brick building. The excavation exposes the weakness of Castie & Cooke's foundation. There is no trace of lime or mortar, but merely a mass of loose stones very roughly put together. Ox Saturday last Ah Choke, a Chinaman, was found guilty of having opium in possession. He was fined $50 and sentenced to 15 days' imprisonment in addition to a sentence he received are able to announce that the report of the loss of machinery, etc., at Laupahoehoe last week, was much exaggerated. A freshet carried away the our boilers that had been landed on the beach, but the rest of the machinery was uninjured. The boilers, themselves, it is hoped, may be recovered and be made serviceable again. We congratulate

Mr. Lidgate, in that his loss was no greater. MESSRS. J. E. WILLIAMS & Co., the well-known photographers have gotten up and had printed a very handsome card comprising two fine photographs of island scenery, surrounded by some eighteen cards of leading firms in Honolulu. These ards being framed and glazed are an ornament to any counting room, and we look to see them eagerly sought after. The same energy that originated 'he happy thought of the "Tourists Guide"— that handy little vest pocket pamphlet, has shown itself in the production of this card, and in another way in the production of large life-size portraits of the Royal family, and high chiefs of these islands. For the first time we have seen a neatly good portrait of H.R.H. Victoria. There are others on exhibition of great interest. In fact, Mr. Williams having made Island people and scenery a study, has now for sale the finest series of pictures that it has been our privilege to see gathered together here. THE old adage, "Birds of a feather flock together," was never more strongly exexplified than in the Gazette of this week. "That Mr. Cruzan said nothing that was offensive (to the schoolmas ter) or that could justifiably be construed into be ing offensive," is a matter on which opinions differ. Had the address been confined to America and mericans, instead of talking at His Majesty, it would have been appropriate to the occasion. schoolmaster finds "nothing to carp at in the Reverend gentleman's sermon," because it contained insinuations, considering the King was present, that would have been better left unsaid. It is unbe-coming, to say the least, of one who draws his salary from the Government every month, as the lmaster does, to endorse utterances from the ulpit that have already met with such universal death of Mr. Bradley Bishop, nephew of the Hon. C. R. Bishop. He died on Monday at 2 a. x., and was buried on Monday afternoon. The funeral took place from the residence of the Hon. C. R. Bishop. The cortege was preceded by a deputation of the Y. M. C. A.; immediately following the hearse were the Hon. C. R. Bishop, Mrs. Bishop and the brother of the deceased. The pall bearers were, Messrs. A. M. Robinson, C. J. Deering, C. A. Brown, E. R. Adams, Geo. E. Wilhoit, J. D. Tucker, H.M. Dow and J.M. Dowsett. There were also a large number of followers, comprising the leading citi-zens of Honolulu. At the grave the conclusion of the burial service of the Episcopal Church was read by the Rev. Geo. Wallace and Alexander Mackintosh followed by the hymn "Nearer my God to Thee." The floral tributes that were placed upon the coffin and around the grave were very numerous and of the most appropriate character.

THE semi-annual meeting of the Trustees of the Queen's Hospital was held on Wednesday morning. The usual routine of business was transacted, and reports from the various committees were read. The ash in hands of the Treasurer was reported to be $3,541.94. Messrs. H. May, H. A. Widemann, and E. O. Hall were appointed the Visiting Committee for the ensuing three months. The following is the visiting Doctor's report: Honolulu, Nov. 30th, 1882. To the Trustees of the Queen's Hospital Gentlemen. HANG LUNG KEE & CO. VS POLICE OFFICERS MARCOS AND OADT.

SUIT FOR DAMAGES. On Saturday last, Messrs. Hang Lung Ke and Co. sued Police Officers Oadt and Marcos for damage arising out of an alleged illegal search of plaintiffs' premises on 5th November last by the defendants. Mr. A. S. Hartwell appeared for the plaintiffs, and Mr. J. M. Davidson for the defendants. The partners of the firm, who were the plaintiffs in this case, testified to the manner in which the house was entered by the police, and not being shown any warrant until the search was over. For the defence, Oadt swore that he read the warrant to the plaintiff, Leesing. The warrant was dated the 13th October, and the search was made on the 5th November. He had made an erasure on the warrant, but did not remember when he did it. Marcos and Tell cor-roborated the former witness' testimony. Tell was complimented for the straightforward manner in which he testified. The main points on which the defendants based their right of entry was the door being open. The Chinese witnesses asserted that the door was closed, though not locked. Oadt stated that he never executed a search warrant unless the door was open. Mr. Davidsen addressed the Court at considerable length on behalf the defendants, maintaining that the officers were justified in the search, provided they used no violence. Mr. Hartwell, for the plaintiffs, said that the execution of opium search warrants was a source of great oppression, and the manner in which they were used was likely to bring the law into contempt. It gratified him (Mr. Hartwell) to see that these men (the plaintiffs) were dotermined to have a test made of this case. In his opinion these search warrants were entirely void and never ought to be issued. He called the atten-tion of the Court to the 7th Section of the 48th Chapter of the Penal Code: "Before executing and from the community a cordial well One of its editors, the Rev. Alexander Ma the warrant, the officer must give notice to the person who applied for it, that he may be present and identify the property if found." The learned using them as the means of committing a certain offense." Officer Marcos, requested permission to correct part of his evidence before judgment was delivered. He had previously stated that the warrants were in his possession from the time they were issued until a return was made. This was an error. They had been passed into the hands of two or three different officers. His Honor Judge Bickerton delivered the fol-

I have given this case very close consideration as I look upon it as an important matter. In the first place, I will give no judgment or opinion on the part that refers to the issuing of the warrant; there are also other points that I shall not consider, for this reason, viz.: there are questions that will come up in a case pending against myself and the Marshal. The declaraion of the plaintiffs is, that they were disturbed, illtreated, and that there was undue violence used. There is no evidence to support that. From the evidence on both sides it is very clear | ized and the church become one again, the maniwhistles as are used here to designate particular hours for work and play. Entrop P. C. A.:—The officers of the Survey Department have made arbeing a folding door, part of it was open. I am also satisfied that no force was used, and that the defendants performed their der every church helpful to its neighbor in the duty in an officer-like manner. These two officers went to the plaintiffs' premises two catch opium smokers, and not in search of opium in large quantities that might have been smuggled. It was Marcos to whom the warrant was delivered, and he who swore, on information received, that opium would be found there. When they the officers) went upstairs they found no smell of opium, and Oadt exclaimed, "We are sold." They proceeded to leave the building. The only remaining question to decide is, were Marcos and Oadt acting under proper authority, and whether they performed their duty after the warrant was in the possession of Marcos? The object of a warrant is, to get something speedily; it gives authority to the person who holds it to enter a premises without delay. The wording of the warrant conveys that meaning. Now the warrant was issued on the 13th of October, and of the warrant conveys that meaning. Now the warrant was issued on the 13th of October, and the search was made on the 5th November. Quite a space of time had elapsed. I do not think I should be doing right to endorse the acts of officers who keep warrants for three weeks without making any return. It would have without making any return. It would have been a different thing if it had been a quantity of opium that was sought after. The warrant was issued to find men smoking. If successful they (the police) were not justified in keeping that warrant Sunday after Sunday. If they failed in the first instance, the warrant should be returned forthwith. If might be that the officers had not received proper instructions, at the same time I must hold that warrants cannot be held for this length of time. It was not the place of this Court, after issuing warrants, to look after the execution of the same. I must hold that it is the officer's duty to make a return within a reasonable time. If I endorsed the action of the police in this instance, there is no reason why warrants could not be carried around for months. There is, perhaps, some excuse for these officers in the want of instruc-

The views as expressed by His Honor were in accordance with his own, but he did think the amount of damages should be less. He thought that $5 each would cover the grounds. His Honor said he looked upon it as a very important case, and one that should be marked, To make the damages $5 each would be making

ACTION OF ASSUMPSIT FOR $54. Mr. S. B. Dole's testimony in regard to this matter was taken down prior to the case coming on. He being the Garnishee. He testified that plaintiff and defendant came to his office for the purpose of obtaining his services to stop the passport of A. E. Aldridge. Grannis not hav-ing money at the time he deposited his watch and chain with Mr. Dole on which he (Mr. D.) advanced $10. W. O. Smith, sworn-stated that he was employed by Aldridge in a matter with Graunis, who claimed from him $356. Aldridge's passport was stopped, to prevent him from leaving the country. Aldridge met Grannis, and compromised the matter by paying him $100 on that day. Granniss declared afterwards that Aldridge need not have paid him anything. The money was extorted from Aldridge.

J. W. Luning, stated that Granniss engaged him to collect a bill from Aldridge on the understanding he was to receive half the amount collected, Granniss having received $100 he sought to recover $50 and $4 that he had paid for express hire.

James Davis, an expressman, corroborated Mr. Luning's evidence.

After a statement by the defendant, His Honor delivered judgment for the amount claimed, and $4 80 costs.

THE ANGLICAN CHURCH CHRONICLE

tosh, has been long and favorably known the other Rev. George Wallace, has but recome among us, fresh with the life and en which busy and populous places develop These gentlemen are ministers of the Episcop Church, but whilst devoting their attentio primarily, as is natural and proper, to the affairs of their own church and of those which are kindred with it, they hope (not without reason we trust), that their Chronicle will find readers, and their enterprise many sympathisors, mong all Christian men of whatever der nation. In their opening address we find them thus expressing their own views:-"With strictly pronounced religious principles of our own, and bound by solemn vows to teach them, we yield to none in broad and comprehensive liberality towards those differing from us, ever mindful of the Vincentian canon, in essentials unity, in non essentials, liberty charity in all-things." The existence of so many Christian sects is a fact to be dealt with and taken as it is. It is of no use to deplore it; still less is it good for the mem-ber of any sect to hold depreciatory opinions of his neighbor who belongs to another. The development of sectarianism among Christians appears to have been a necessary and natural accompaniment of advancing civilization and an instrument for bringing the truths of the gospel near to the hearts of every class of markind, and whilst all must hold as a cherished dream the idea that i some more advanced stage of human affairs all this diversity will be har panies the prevailing liberty in non essentials der every church helpful to its neighbor in the same proportion as it progresses itself. The editors have another word on this subject which we venture to quote: "Our greatest desire is to see a greater unity of Christians in this, our isolated country. Unity is not attained by dwelling on differences, but in scoking for similarities; still, a rigid uniformity is equally an evil with disagreement. We do not expect to do great things, but we do hope to promote in some measure the good understanding which ought to exist among all 'who profess and call themselves Christinas, ***

Published at this season the first article in the Chroniele is appropriately devoted to the subject of Advent, which is treated with much earnestness. The "Expositor's" column is devoted to "The Christian Year," the writer of Professor Seeley's "Natural Re Seeley is the author of a book entitled " Ecce Homo," which, now many years ago, made some stir in the religious world of England and America. A chapter is devoted to "Training Schools." The editors express their intention to devote a portion of their space each month to the subject of secular education, and aspire to have the Chronicle mule useful as "the recog-nized organ of all engaged in education is those Islands;" and in a further article devoted to Islands;" and in a further article devoted to educational matters, they appeal to the teachers for support and assistance in this part of their undertaking. Church news, from the old world, from America, and from various parts of this diocese, occupy some pages of the Chronicle, and this feature will undoubtedly assist greatly to render the paper popular. Except by the few who take the foreign religious papers and magazines for their own reading, but little is known among us of what is going on in the known among us of what is going on in the religious world elsewhere, unless when some event of wite-pread importance or exceptional singularity is chronicled by the secular news-

We heartily wish the editors of the Anglican Church Chronicle "Godspeed" with their work, and a success which shall reward them for the labor of love they have undertaken,

An Answer to the Various Theories on the Origin of the Comet.

MR. EDITOR:—About eight of nine months ago, my attention was called to an article in one of the Honolulu papers, setting forth the fact that certain astronomers had discovered a protuberance on the face of the sun, several thousand miles in ex-tent. After reading the article in question, I remarked to several gentlemen who were present, that in a short time I would show that this protuberance, detached from the sun, in the shape of a comet, thereby predicting the coming of our recent

I have a theory of my own regarding the origin of comets, and that is, that they come from an overloaded sun. After this protuberance was discovered on the face of the sun, it disappeared; where did it go to? It was thrown into sp where did it go to? It was thrown into space and made its appearance in its present shape, a ball of fire shining from its own light, the only body in the heavens that does excepting the sun. I claim that this comet will obey the laws that all comets have before it. And will travel through space—obeying the fixed laws of nature until the surface has cooled off as other comets have, and in due time will be discovered by astronomers (as they have done bediscovered by astronomers (as they have done be-fore with other lost comets) a new planet—and then will take its proper position and follow its or-bit as other planets do, and will pass through evo-lutions as the earth has done. For I claim that the earth was originally a comet. That the surface cooled off, and that the original fire still exists, that the material that flowed out of Manna Loa about one year ago, a distance of 60 miles through the Hilo rains and gulches, exhibiting at the extreme end, lava of a perfect white heat. I claim that this very material is a fac-simile of the substance of which the sun is composed—showing the material of all comets and planets, sustaining the claim to keep that heat alive in the sun for the er. On the evidence before the Court, His Honor committed for trial at the January term of the Supreme Court.

(which is several) In the case of Frank Ferreira, who was charged with larceny, the prosecution entered a long as the sun has would naturally cool off, as all comets have, coming from the sun. Now I cla that to keep the sun alive there must be sor in the nature of fuel to keep up the fire. And in keeping up this fire, it must enlarge the sun, causing a protuberance. Whatever the sun is sursounded with, this feeding of the Sun is the cause of its overload, and when it is overloaded it creates a protuberance, which in course of time is ejected into space, and that material, whatever it was, is
